- Comments from students:
 - We should offer Almond milk in the dining hall.
 - Thanks for your vegetarian options. Maybe even some more "meatless meat"?
 - Since when was quimbys one entree at a time? Two thousand dollars for a meal plan and I can't get two entrees at once?
 - Unpleasantly surprised to see feta cheese at Roscos, feta cheese is not Mexican... Oh tcnj my Mexican grandma is rolling in her grave
 - Hi tcnj dinning, my friends and I would really like if there was an option for white buns at the grill. Thank you for your time.
 - Bring back pasta, it's never here anymore.
 - The new rule at Quimby's is a very bad idea. It is going to make the line too long all the time because so many people get two entrees. It's going to waste time because it's going to have to be explained to everyone. It's going to waste plates because everyone will be getting two plates. It's not going to save food because everyone will still get 2 entrees anyway. It will just waste everyone's time and energy.
 - Please change the new rule. It's really inconvenient to limit entrees. It wastes time and dishes doer me to get back in line for food I could have had the 1st time at Quimbys.
 - The new rule at Quimby's where a student can only get 1 entrée at a time is incredibly inconvenient, inefficient and illogical. If a student is still able to receive both entrees by returning, then making one trip would optimize both time and efficiency. Now the student must waste time and lengthens lines by returning for the other on a separate plate. Students have classes and meetings to attend and sometimes eat in a rush. They shouldn't have to waste their time.
