

Sick Meal Policy

We're sorry that you're not feeling well! If you are ill, we encourage you to stay at home and rest rather than coming into our dining facilities, in order to help prevent the spread of viral illnesses. We are happy to provide you with a meal which can be ordered and processed on our online ordering form or you can have a friend or designated university personnel purchase a meal for you, based on the selections that we have in the dining hall that day. You will have to identify a person who can pick up the food for you.

Please use the following link to access the online ordering form:

Formal Instructions

1. A student who is requesting a “sick meal” can place an online order using the online ordering form for pick up. The student will be required to have a friend or designated university personnel pick up the meal on their behalf.
2. Students will have to sign up for the Sodexo Bite app using the below instructions or QR code to view and choose menu items to be filled out on the online form
3. Students can also have a friend come to the dining hall to purchase food for them, based on the daily offerings.
4. The ill student must provide written authorization that a friend or designated university personnel will be picking up their food and/or to give them authorization to use their USciences ID Card to purchase a meal.
5. The authorization form is included below. It must be printed and filled out in full. In order to pick up food for a sick student, the friend or designated university personnel must provide the cashier with the completed form that has been filled out by the sick student.
6. If the student is not ordering via the online ordering form, the student is responsible for providing their friend or designated university personnel with a list of food and beverage items which are available in the dining hall that they would like included in their full take-away meal. If this is during a swipe-able meal (breakfast, dinner or brunch) the friend may select food from the dining hall using to-go containers. If this is during a lunch period, the meal selected will be charged based on regular pricing.
